Timothy Krebs

DVM, DACVIM (Neurology)

Department of Neurology and Neurosurgery
ACCESS | South Bay

Dr. Timothy Krebs grew up in upstate New York, near the Finger Lakes in a small city called Elmira. He stayed local and attended Cornell University for his undergraduate studies and then remained at Cornell for his veterinary degree.

Timothy went on to complete a rotating internship at Oradell Animal Hospital in northern New Jersey and then returned to familiar territory to Cornell to complete his residency in neurology and neurosurgery. Finally, Timothy decided to leave the harsh New York winters behind and head to California and is happy to start the neurology service at ACCESS Specialty Animal Hospital - South Bay.

He has a nine-year-old mutt named Buddy who he adopted as rescue during vet school. Timothy's hobbies include long distance running and enjoying the outdoors. He's done six marathons and looks forward to more, especially now in the better weather!

While Timothy does some spinal surgeries as well as medical neurology, his main professional areas of interest include inflammatory brain disease and refractory epilepsy.
