

Susan Chae, DVM

ACCESS – South Bay

Dr. Susan Chae grew up in Seoul, Korea. She studied Biological Science at UC Irvine and Veterinary Medicine at Western University of Health Sciences.

Growing up, Susan always loved animals, and while in college, she volunteered at a local animal shelter and International Bird Rescue Center. She found it rewarding to help animals in need and be around other people who care about animals' well-being. It helped her decide to become a veterinarian.

When she is not working, Dr. Chae enjoys being cozy at home listening to podcasts and audiobooks.
