

William Oldenhoff, DVM, DACVD

Department of Dermatology
ACCESS – San Fernando Valley

Dr. William Oldenhoff was born and raised in rural Wisconsin. He attended the University of Wisconsin for undergraduate studies and veterinary school.

Following veterinary school, he worked in small animal general practice before returning to the University of Wisconsin for a dermatology internship and residency.

He has practiced dermatology in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and Madison, Wisconsin. Having never lived on the west coast, he decided a change was in order and has relocated to Southern California to be with family.

In his free time, Dr. Oldenhoff enjoys bicycling, traveling, cooking, and spending time with his family. He is particularly passionate about sourdough bread making and home fermentation. Like any good Wisconsinite, he always has a wide selection of cheeses at home.
